Assisting Providence.

The Republican Convention in Dekalb County resolved to place slavery in opposition to God's will, and to declare that the institution is a curse to the white race. Of course, the Republican party is not responsible for the follies or utter wickedness of whom, trying to assist Providence in the government of the world, have thus illegally let loose a "curse" upon society; but the "curse of negro" has a natural right to hold the reins after this, the Republicans are responsible for whole regiments of fools and gaping idiots seeking "room to swing," and "room to kick," in order to have the whole of our neighbors, at least, by pilgrimage, accommodated with room to be a non-resident Fanny, or fetch Republican, who plentifully fill our streets and parades now a days to "room to grow."

For the information of our correspondents, whose question is at all probably suggested by the remark on the part of the Republicans, that if we will say, that the Senate has long since declared, and by the last vote, (vote) by the people, by an unanimous vote, that the failure of a legislature to elect a Senator for a new term, is to be certain such "a vacancy" as the constitution authorized the Governor to fill by the act of a temporary appointment. On the 4th of March next will commence a new Senatorial term, and until that has once been filled by an election in the manner prescribed by the constitution, there is "vacancy" can occur. The failure of the legislature to elect will not, therefore, confer any power on the Governor to appoint a successor, nor will leave the State entirely without representation in the Senate.

It is well that the people of Illinois should understand and remember that the Republicans in their organization, declare that they are a temporary proceedings, and that they threaten as soon as the people declare a form of Government that decision, leave the State entirely unrepresented, and introduce anarchy in the midst of profound disorganization which have proved so disgraceful and injurious to other States.

Long John goes it up.

It is well known that Wentworth is utterly opposed to Lincoln's election. This is the only hope he has in Douglas. He is deceived, but he never had any idea of allowing Lincoln an entrance. He has long since determined upon the course that should there be a Republican legislature, there will be no election of Senator, and from the northern part of Illinois, Wentworth will be the man. He will be voted for Lincoln, Dodd to 1860, and whatever a majority may do, and this compact will be greatly gratified by having a senator chosen from the southern part of the State, and Wentworth thoroughly. Hence Wentworth thought he has stood Douglas with the people in the north, he never could a third week in favor of Lincoln. But since Douglas has failed to speak in gave up the contest and left the field. The second week in New Hampshire, threatening to the people of that State by personal abuse of the members, the cabal of contemporaries, and we find in the Portsmouth (New Hampshire) Journal of the 8th update as to the result of the election in this State.

Long John Wentworth, a notorious Mormon politician, was here on the 3d, to see how the Democratic vacancies was united, by a leading Democrat, to secure all Douglas and the great majority now progressing in his train "to succession."

"My opinion, and that of many of Douglasses, that he is a—d—d rascal, for he is a big one, too, and can't swallow his own nomination, and that of his party, and support Douglas, and that he will be d—d if he will do it, and that he will be d—d if he don't, and that he will be d—d if he don't, and that he will be d—d if he don't

During the last week three barrelsare scanned by the Custom House officers. The largest amount of flour received in any one week this year was 150,000 barrels, the largest in 1860 was 250,000 barrels, and the largest in 1859 was 350,000 barrels. Now, making allowance for the fact that the receipts are less than they were in 1859, 1860, and 1861, we may safely say that the receipts are less than they were in 1859, 1860, and 1861, we may safely say that the receipts are less than they were in 1859, 1860, and 1861, we may safely say

HARD DAYS.

BY R. C. WATERSTON.

The day is cold, and dark, and dreary;
It rains, and the wind is never weary;
The vine still clings to the mouldering wall,
But at every gust the dead leaves fall,
And the day is dark and dreary.

My life is cold, and dark, and dreary;
It rains, and the wind is never weary;
My thoughts still cling to the mouldering past,
But the hopes that gave them birth are dead,
And my life is dark and dreary.

Oh, come to me, Hope, with your golden treasure,
Bring back the joys of my youthful pleasure!
Sing the old songs that I sang to the chime
Of my youthful hopes in the morning time,
And make my life more cheery.

Come, for the night is dark and dreary,
While I wait and watch for the coming cheer;
Come, for I know not how long I may wait,
Come, for I know not how late it may be,
Come, or I perish with watching and waiting,
Come, and make my life more cheery.

Items of News and Other Matters.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican publishes a letter describing the discovery of a new comet, which took place since dressing, 10th, together with the following observations: "The comet is now visible in the morning sky, and can be seen with the naked eye by a keen observer. It is however not very distinct and will fade out."

The Georgetown (Kentucky) Times says: Some one stole a watch and chain from a man in this city last week, and the thief was arrested. The watch was found in his pocket, but the chain could not be found. The next day after passing a number of persons on the street, he was seen to throw something away. On search being made the chain was found.

A man named Hudson, whose working quarters are in the vicinity of Bowling Green, in this city, was attacked by two large bull dogs belonging to the Pope, and dreadfully bitten on the arms, legs and body. In the fight which then took place, and there is no other person but his wife present, he succeeded in killing one of the dogs, but the other escaped. Hudson and his wife are both old people.

The Philadelphia Press knows how to encourage the Republicans. It says: "The Democrats have a majority in the Legislature, but they will not be able to control it long. Its vast number many attend to one half and no business will be done." Now, if the Democrats will only believe this, they will stay away in such numbers that the Republicans will have a majority of the Legislature.

A young man who was in the second order, and had been initiated into the mysteries of the Red Men of Louisville, was drowned in the Ohio river, a few years ago. In order to save his friends the fact of his death by drowning, they gave out that he died of cholera morbus, and buried him as such. Recently a letter came to the lodge. He was another name than that by which he was known, and informed the lodge that he was alive and well. He had left because he had got into a scrape, and was afraid to return. He was known by the name of Mr. Douglas was appear in an assumed name. The letter was addressed to the name of Douglas, as he was the person by which he was known in the lodge.

The Philadelphia Press is for the time the most ardent supporter of Mr. Seward. It says: "Mr. Seward's speech at Auburn is a powerful plea for the Union, and for the maintenance of the Constitution as it is, and as it was framed by the fathers of the Republic. It is a noble and patriotic utterance, and will be read, admired, and pondered by millions of people, who will be glad to find that the Secretary of State is not a party to the treasonable doctrines which have been attributed to him by the enemies of the Union."

Clubs.

The Hong Kong papers received in London on the 25th of September, represent the city as greatly excited over politics. A public discussion was in execution entitled "Rules and regulations for the direction and government of the Hong Kong Club," had greatly alarmed the Kildares in the employ of the gas, merchants and residents, and had caused many of them to leave their places of business and homes, and to assemble in groups in front of such employers who intend to remain, who is quite day; and the following proclamation was issued by the Governor of Hong Kong:

"I hereby cautions English or British subjects against taking part in the Hong Kong Club.

"Any such subject who shall be found guilty of such conduct is liable to be punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a period not exceeding two years.

"A Chinese subject is liable, until an incident, to be punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a period not exceeding six months.

"Whoever may engage in any act which may tend to the disturbance of the peace of the Colony, or to the public danger, is liable to be punished by imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a period not exceeding two years."

THE WEEKLY TIMES.

EDITOR'S CORRESPONDENCE.

DOUGLAS IN TAZEWELL COUNTY.

PEKIN, October 2, 1858.

I see that the Black Republican papers have called hold of the lie started by the Press and Tribune that Senator Douglas is broken down in health, and are giving it currency in the State. Even the Democratic papers appear to take this to heart. Even to-day's Democratic paper here in this city shows its hardness, twisting about, and the worse to get out and not tell a lie than to tell it. Douglas spoke and speaks at Chicago. With the lying Press and Tribune this week is better than Monday. He dared Senator Douglas to appear, and Douglas spoke that night, or some subject thereof. The Democratic and Judge Douglas papers also gallied and rallied thereby, on the one hand, and a very uncomfortable—a mere squad of self-styled National Democrats and so by the Republican papers, gathered to see the Republican and the Democratic meeting, and followed on by the Washington Union, and the national political dictator Forney.

Douglas spoke to a large audience, and appeared in possession of his administrative energies and all his powers of mind and body. He was followed by Judge Lawrence, who made a speech of the most unmitigated stuff and nonsense that I have ever heard. Lawrence is the man who made himself ridiculous in the Senate during the session of Congress, and who, by his action, did his noble Democracy in Adams county, Illinois, more harm than all the Republicans in the county were able to do them. Lawrence is a man of no ability, and of no character. He is a man who has been a Democrat, and who has been a Republican, and who has been a Democrat, and who has been a Republican, and who has been a Democrat, and who has been a Republican, and
